Course Description:

Welcome to 7th Admin. This course was invented to help aid the 7th grade population begin to make the switch from childhood to the lifestyle of the young adult. Midland Classical is a very demanding place that operates around the premise of the student accepting academic responsibility as well as responsibility for other areas of their life. In this course we are going to discuss many topics a few of them being time budgeting, responsibility, professionalism, social skills, and how to be a productive God-honoring young person. The hope is that this course will greatly influence your young people by looking at God's Word.

Grading:

The student's grade will be based on their participation and achievement on general projects. The percentage breakdowns of these two requirements are listed below.

Participation 10%
General Projects 90%

Participation will be judged on their timeliness to class, their conduct in the classroom, and their participation in discussions. General Projects will be anything from memory verses to general projects and journal entries. I have high expectations for the student regarding quality of work and conduct in the classroom. Respect for one another will be expected at all times.

Final Thoughts:

I am excited to spend the year with your young people, helping them learn the truth about what God desires of them as they grow towards adulthood, and watching them grow. Our overarching goal for this class is to introduce skills and develop character for success at MCA and in life beyond MCA. If you as parents have any questions at any point about anything I would love to speak to you. Thank you and welcome to the upper school of Midland Classical Academy.

Materials Needed:

1 inch binder
Notebook paper and pencil/pen
Journal
Bible – any translation (always bring to class)

First Day of Class Assignment

Be prepared to briefly introduce yourself and on the second page of your journal, write your first entry about how you are feeling entering into MCA and what you are most excited about - a short paragraph will be sufficient. Feel free to also write down any questions that you would like answered!
